Political Leaders Pleased

Generally Favorable Comments to Gov. Donnelly's Message, Support Pledged

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.—(P)—Missouri's 64th General Assembly squared away for a varied post-war legislative program today on a course charted by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly in his biennial message to the lawmakers.

The Governor, who urged that the executive and legislative branches work together as a team to "accomplish our great tasks," met with generally favorable response to his message from leaders of both parties.

Singled out for comment were his proposals for revamping of eleemosynary institutions and the state training schools and his admonition to the legislators to "re-sist all efforts to raid" the $30,000,000 post-war fund.

"I'm sure that the senate will pledge its support to him on his program," said Senator M. C. Matthes, Hillsboro, Republican, and president pro tem of the senate.

He said he particularly liked his recommendations regarding the eleemosynary institutions and the situation at Booneville and Tipton. I concur in his opposition to raids on the state treasurer."

Senator Smith Interested

This view was seconded by Senator R. Jasper Smith, Springfield, the senate majority leader.

"I was particularly interested in what the governor said about mental institutions generally," he said. "I think the whole system should be revamped to provide a general receiving hospital, with emphasis on treatment and cure rather than custody alone."

Murray E. Thompson, of Webster county, Republican and speaker of the house, said he favored the governor's suggestion that board and room rates to counties for caring for senile patients at state hospitals be raised from the present $6 to $25 a month to provide more room for mentally ill patients.

Shared His Views

He said the suggestion that legislation be enacted to prevent labor strikes which affect the lives, health, or safety of the general public, or challenge the sovereignty of the state government coincided with his own views.

"A very comprehensive, constructive speech," was the way Senator Emory W. Allison, of Rolla, the senate minority leader, described the message. "You might call it an admonition for economy."

Representative Roy Hamlin of Marion county, minority floor leader in the house, said:

"He's hitting the nail on the head. Especially as to the eleemosynary institutions being administered by laymen so the doctors can be free to treat the patients."

May Not Please Courts

The new appropriations chairman, Lewis H. Wallace, of Buchanan county, said he agreed "completely" with the governor on the senile patient situation in state hospitals, but added, "I'm afraid a lot of county courts are going to start working on their representatives, beginning tonight, to attempt to defeat any such legislation."

James Davis, executive secretary of the C. I. O. Council, said he agreed with the governor's view that every "union must observe its contracts. Labor contracts are not a one-way street. If labor expects management to live up to contracts then labor must also live up to them."

Drone to Drop Dummy Bomb

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(P)—The army air forces will show how it could be bombed with a crevassed "drone" bomber operating from a far-away base.

A B-17 "drone" will take off from Elgin Field, Fla., fly out to sea, drop a dummy bomb on a target, proceed over Washington and then return to its base—all under the control of the pilot in an accompanying "mother" B-17 capable of operating the drone from distances up to 50 miles.

Just in case, a pilot and copilot will be aboard the drone to take over if the drone and its mother plane have control difficulties.

Two Meetings of C. of C. Committees

A meeting of those connected with the Community Chest drive is being held this afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce, 112 East Fourth street, with Roy Schick, chairman of the drive, presiding.

There will also be a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce tax committee at 7:30 tonight at the Chamber of Commerce. George Lockett, chairman of the retail committee, will preside at the meeting.

Models Want Raise in Pay

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—(P)—The new Association of Professional Models here will decide Sunday how much its members want to charge for posing—both dressed and sans clothing—and whether to affiliate with the CIO or AFL.

The group has asked for a raise from $1 an hour to $1.50 for "dressed" work and from $1.50 to $2 for nude posing.

Asked why the models charge 50 cents more for nude posing, Miss Dorothy Vetter, treasurer of the association, said:

"We really don't know ourselves. Just tradition, I guess. It's really more comfortable without clothing—unless the studios are cold."

Introduce Bill Providing for Driving Tests

Applicants Would Have to Show Ability To Know Warnings

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.—(P)—A bill requiring strict tests of Missouri automobile drivers—recommended by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly in his message yesterday—was introduced in the Senate today by Sen. H. R. Williams (R) of Cassville.

It would give the highway patrol authority to test the eyesight and driving ability of applicants for drivers' licenses. Applicants would have to show an ability to understand highway warning signs and pass any physical or mental examinations prescribed by the state motor vehicle commissioner.

The constitutional amendment proposals, the first of the young session, also were introduced by Williams.

One would limit appropriations by the general assembly to the state's anticipated revenue as estimated by the director of revenue. Williams said it was intended to prevent deficit spending.

Tax Raise Up to People

The other would prevent imposition of any new or additional taxes by the state or its local political subdivisions without a majority vote of the people.

He offered similar proposals late in the last legislative session but they died with final adjournment last month. If approved by the legislature they would go on the 1948 general election ballot.

In other bills offered today:

Sen. William M. Quinn (D) of Maywood proposed that the sale of motor vehicle license plates be centered in the hands of county clerks, except in St. Louis, and St. Louis and Jackson counties.

Sen. R. Jasper Smith (R) of Springfield offered a bill extending the terms of Supreme Court commissioners another four years and Sen. M. C. Matthes (R) of Hillsboro introduced one extending the terms of the two St. Louis Court of Appeals commissioners four more years. Salaries were not affected.

Church Group Makes Report

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa., Jan. 9.—(P)—In a self-styled "revolutionary" report, a special committee of Protestant churchmen insisted today the Christian church must erase all racial segregation and discrimination if it wants to remain champion "of human rights."

The committee made its report at the annual meeting of the Home Missions Council of North America here, which represents 23 major protestant denominations. The group is in the third day of a four-day session.

Calling the problem of group and race relations "one of the great social and ethical issues of our day," the committee last night declared steps must be taken to insure success of the home missions projects in the United States and Canada.

Borrowed to Meet Payroll

SELMOUR, Conn., Jan. 9.—(P)—Harry A. Lee, treasurer of the Seymour Manufacturing company, said the concern had to float a special loan to meet its weekly payroll today because its bank balance had been attached by the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (CIO).

The attachment resulted from a suit for $466,000 portal-to-portal pay filed by the union.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

Fred Dybro, 1819 South Warren avenue, admitted for medical treatment.

Mrs. W. F. Killion, Dresden and Mrs. Lulu Eckhoff, 1104 South Lamine avenue, admitted for medical treatment.

Mrs. Sarah Goff, 402 South Babcock, dismissed.

Changes in Income Taxes

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.—(P)—Your Missouri state income tax return will be a little harder to compute this year, but there will be a dividend in the extra work.

The complicated arises in the increased exemptions which apply to the last half of the year. Under the old law, effective the first half of the year, a married person was allowed an exemption of $2,000 under the law which became effective July 1, a married person is eligible for an exemption of $2,400.

The exemption for a single person was increased in mid-year from $1,000 to $1,200. Those with dependents also get a break. Exemptions for each dependent were hiked from $200 to $400.

Another change is the destination of your return. Instead of sending it to the county collector as in past years, you will have to send it to the income tax unit of the Missouri department of revenue at Jefferson City, or the local office of the revenue unit if your city or county has one.

NLB Holds up Action of All Foremen Cases

Until After Ruling By Supreme Court; Test Case Begins

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(P)—The National Labor Relations board announced today it will hold up action on all foremen's cases until the supreme court rules on whether a firm was to bargain with a union of its foremen.

The high tribunal begins hearing arguments today on a test case involving this issue.

The NLRB issued a statement saying it decided unanimously "out of respect for the court and in view of the great public interest in the question, not to conduct any new hearings or render any further decisions in foremen's cases until the supreme court has spoken."

The Wagner labor relations act, which guarantees bargaining rights to unions of "employees," is nearly 12 years old but the status of foremen's unions never has been determined by the highest court.

A Hot Issue

It has been a hot issue, however, in cases before the National Labor Relations Board—which handed down conflicting opinions over the last five years—and in the lower courts.

The crux of the supreme court case is whether congress intended to include foremen when providing protection to unions certified to represent "employees," or whether foremen are excluded because they are a part of management.

The court hearing involves the Packard Motor car company and the foremen's association of America, an independent union of supervisory workers. It comes as congress itself is about to re-examine the problem.

Congress May Act First

Congress may act even before the supreme court can decide what the lawmakers meant when they wrote the Wagner act in 1935.

Today's case involves an organization of foremen not affiliated with rank and file auto plant workers. The sixth circuit court of Appeals in Cincinnati, whose decision is being appealed by the Packard company, said Packard should bargain with the foremen's group, but hinted its decision had been different if the association was part of a production workers' union.

'Jackpot' to Pensioners

DENVER, Jan. 9.—(P)—Colorado gave each of its old age pensioners a $220.80 "jackpot" payment today in addition to their $45 monthly pensions.

Welfare Director Earl M. Kouns said the payment was the highest ever paid to pensioners in the United States in any month "so far as I know." The pension payment and jackpot went to 42,385 persons.

The huge "jackpot" payment resulted from a provision in Colorado's law that all money in the pension fund must be divided each January among the persons on the pension rolls. Increased sales and liquor tax receipts are largely responsible for the record-breaking payment.

Scout Masters to Meet Friday Night

A meeting of the Scout Masters and Cub Scout Masters will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening at which Carl L. Hinden, deputy regional executive of Region 8, Boy Scouts of America, headquarters in Kansas City, will be a guest at the meeting.

He is a cousin of President of the United States Harry S. Truman.

Cosmetics to Japanese

TOKYO, Jan. 9.—(P)—Japanese women, who like their cosmetics as well as any women anywhere, soon are going to get powders, perfumes, rouges and pomades, and by the bucketful.

Now able to purchase only inferior grades at exorbitant prices, they heard with glee today that Allied headquarters would release sufficient perfumes to manufacture 67,000 kilograms of cosmetics.

General Marshall Lands at Honolulu; Met by His Wife

HONOLULU, Jan. 9.—(P)—General Marshall, returning to the United States from China to become secretary of state, landed at Hickam Field at 11 p. m. last night (3:30 a. m., today, CST) and was kissed warmly by his wife, who came here recently for the winter and will go on to Washington with him.

The general looked extremely well rested despite his long flight from Nanking via Guam, where his C-54 transport was refueled.

Marshall declined to make any statement on his new position.

"I hope to rest here a few days," he said. "But of course that depends upon what I hear from Washington."

Asked if he considers himself a Democrat, Marshall replied: "I am an army officer and expect to be secretary of state."

Cattle Stampede Costs 19 Steers

CALIFORNIA, Mo., Jan. 9.—(P)—A cattle stampede cost Paul Bollinger a herd of 19 two-year-old steers.

The animals, grazing in a field five miles south of here, suddenly "went wild," and plunged down an embankment onto ice in the Moneau river. The impact broke the five-inch ice and the animals plunged into seven feet of water. Only two escaped.

Bollinger said he had no idea what frightened his cattle. A herd of 130, grazing in another part of the field, did not join in the dash.

The organizational arrangement of Kiwanis International, District Kiwanis and local Kiwanis clubs was explained to the Sedalia club members by the Rev. H. U. Campbell, chairman of the Education committee at their meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

In presenting his talk the speaker used a diagram display to explain the purposes of the club and the duties with which each member should be familiar.

John G. Crawford presided as program chairman.

J. T. Alexander presented Patricia Opp who played a flute solo, "Concertina," by Chaminade, accompanied by Ruth Ann Yunker, pianist.

The Happy Birthday song was sung in honor of J. C. Griffin, Sam Harlan, Elmer Sterling, John Ryan, the Rev. E. H. Campbell, Frank Wagner and R. F. Peterson. John Joe McGrath was recognized as father of a new daughter by the club singing "Rockabye Baby."

Board Meeting Friday

Tonight a Kiwanis charter will be presented to the new Rolla, Missouri club and the following Sedalia members will attend the ceremony: President Miller; Secretary E. E. Sterling, T. H. Yount, the Rev. H. U. Campbell and Herbert Schrankler.

Not Guilty of Having Inadequate Brakes

Troy K. Craig, of near Ionia, who was tried in circuit court this morning on a charge of operating a motor vehicle with inadequate brakes, was found not guilty by a jury.

Members of the jury were: John Sneed, foreman, John Needy, Ed. Goss, John Purchase, J. L. Scott, Otto Valen, E. H. Keller, F. D. Masteney, Otto Holst, C. A. Wingate, Paul Read, and Charles Brandhorst.

The defendant was represented by C. P. Junge.

Economics Lesson

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 9.—(P)—Associate Professor John R. Huber, who teaches economics at the University of Washington, pleaded in defense of a speeding charge that he was hurrying home to relieve the baby sitter with his children.

"That's poor economics," said justice of the peace Roy Deggie. "It's penny wise and pound foolish to pay out $10 for a fine to save 50 cents for a baby sitter."

The professor agreed and paid.

Ugh to Ah

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 9.—(P)—Giles L. Mathews, income tax field deputy, says an Indian sought help in filling out his income tax blank.

To questions on earnings, profits, cash on hand, the Indian had only one answer: "Ugh." Then the conversation went like this:

"You'll have to tell me."

"Ugh."

"Why, you may even have a refund coming."

"Ah, how much?"

Mrs. McCaffrey Dies

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9.—(P)—Mrs. James J. McCaffrey, 60, for ten years vicar-general of the Kansas City diocese, died last night. He suffered a cerebral hemorrhage November 3.

Thought for Today

Then conquer we must when our cause is just. And this be our motto, "In God is our trust!"—Francis Scott Key.

State Senate Loses No Time In Organizing

House Advances Emergency Fund, Quits Until Monday

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 9.—(P)—Open and ready for business, the Missouri Senate plunged into the work of the 1947 legislature today by adopting official rules, setting up committees and receiving the first bills and constitutional amendment proposals.

The House meanwhile, advanced an emergency $125,000 appropriation to pay legislative salaries and expenses, then quit until Monday when full scale operations will start.

The Senate start was one of the fastest within the memory of veteran observers. They said they could not recall when committee appointments had been ready so early in the session.

Sen. M. C. Matthes (R) of Hillsboro, president pro tem, had announced previously his choice of Sen. W. H. Robinson (R) of Mountain Grove for chairman of the appropriations committee.

Today he named all the rest of the 23 Senate committees. All the chairmen are Republicans.

Smith to Same Post

Sen. R. Jasper Smith (R) of Springfield, majority floor leader, again was appointed chairman of the powerful judiciary and rules committees, the same posts which he held last session.

Sen. Frank M. Frisby of Bethany won chairmanship of the ways and means committee which considers tax legislation while Senator C. R. Hawkins of Brumley will be chairman of the committee on education, university, school of mines, state colleges and libraries.

A newcomer, Sen. William H. Burden of Joplin, was appointed chairman of a revised committee on fees, salaries and local government. The committee on public health and welfare, taking over functions formerly performed by three committees as a result of last year's executive department reorganization, will be headed by Sen. W. R. Walker of Carrollton.

Act During Fair Week

Sedalia's Chamber of Commerce has many problems, and while there is usually a solution, Albert Zurcher, director in charge of the housing committee of the organization, hasn't been able to find solutions to all of his housing problems.

So far this week there have been thirteen calls for houses, apartments or rooms, from persons who want to live in Sedalia and have found no locations. Ellsworth Green, secretary-manager of the Chamber, takes their names, tries to find homes for them, and is appealing to the public to help house these people. Most of them want houses, but if they can't find houses they will be glad to have apartments or even rooms, and Sedalia's who have available places are asked to call Mr. Green.

Indict Confessed Husband Slayer
NEWARK, O., Jan. 9.—(AP)—The Licking county grand jury Wednesday indicted Mrs. Larua Belle Devlin, 72-year-old, confessed slayer, on a charge of first degree murder.

Police Chief Gail Christman told the jury that the mild-mannered little woman had admitted slaying Thomas Devlin, 75, her husband, with a handsaw and sickle because he had "tried to kill me so many times that I decided to end his life."

Beware Coughs Following Flu
After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

The Doctor Says
Dr. O'Brien
Streptomycin is no Miracle
T. B. Killer
By William A. O'Brien, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Will the drug streptomycin replace other forms of treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis? Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw and his associates at the Mayo Clinic believe that tuberculosis patients who are making satisfactory progress through conventional methods of care do not need streptomycin.

Streptomycin apparently suppresses, instead of destroying, the tuberculosis germ. Although a search for a drug effective in the treatment of tuberculosis had been under way for 60 years, it was not until six years ago that streptomycin was found.

Doctor Hinshaw and his associates treated 100 patients with various types of tuberculosis in the past two years. Some of the patients had tuberculosis in several locations. Most unusual was their experience with five patients who recovered from widespread tuberculosis and tuberculosis meningitis. Recovery in these forms of tuberculosis has been so uncommon that these patients probably are the first of their kind in medical history.

Patients, including some with rapidly advancing tuberculosis, who would have undergone surgery in the past were given streptomycin. Striking results were obtained in several of these cases, although the disease apparently was suppressed and not eliminated.

T. B. Surgery Advances
Great progress has been made in the surgical treatment of tuberculosis through the injection of air between the chest wall and the lungs and the destruction of the chest wall by removal of part of the ribs.

With streptomycin it may be possible to prepare for this operation patients who were not considered suitable subjects in the past.

The discovery of streptomycin has aroused hopes of ultimately finding a more perfect drug for tuberculosis treatment. But in the meantime, patients with tuberculosis should be guided by competent medical advice, taking the usual forms of treatment if streptomycin would not aid them.

Question: Is it possible for a diabetic ever to eat sweet things again?
Answer: Yes, if he takes more insulin and engages in more physical activity. In some diabetics tolerance for sugar increases after a time. Diabetics should feel all right, look all right, and perform their duties efficiently. They should not pass sugar in the urine.

Montgomery's Job is to Pacify Russia

Assure Them the Anglo-American Plan Is on the Up-and-Up

By J. M. Roberts, Jr.

AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Britain's acrid little Field Marshal Montgomery, whose name is more synonymous with massed artillery than with the soothing word, is now revealed as Britain's newest envoy of pacification.

Word from Moscow has it that the marshal is there to convince the Russians that everything is on the up and up about the Anglo-American standardization deal, and that his trip is viewed as the most important mission to Moscow by a Britisher in some time.

His assignment would seem like a big order. The Russians have displayed considerable nervousness over the proposals. They ask themselves just who in the world besides Russia is so big that the British and Americans need to combine against them. They are looking at the other side of a picture which Americans see as a mere commonplace application of lessons learned since 1939, when American industry began making weapons to French and British specifications, and then had to shift to American types.

Bases Just Insurance

The Russians, too, are well aware of an angle of the standardization program which has to do with something besides the long-term possibility that British and American forces may have to fight again under unified command. The United States wants to build its own military bases in far northern Canada. The deal hasn't gone through because some Canadians see the project as a further binding of Canada to the U. S. and a corollary weakening of ties with England. Prime Minister Mackenzie King will be in a lot better position to convince his people if the whole thing becomes one big pool with Britain throwing in too.

From this side, those bases in Canada merely look like insurance taken out in the devout hope that there will be no fire. From the Russian side they look as such bases would appear to Buffalo and Detroit if Britain were to start such military construction in southern Canada.

To Calm Russians

Montgomery's job, apparently, is to tell the Russians not to get excited; that standardization is merely something that looks sensible from our standpoint in an unsettled world; that the door is open for Russian participation in any deal Britain makes with the U. S.; that it's just like Russia wanting to cement a defense ring in the weak countries which surround her.

The ordinary diplomatic smoothie, subject to the inherent Russian distrust of foreigners, probably wouldn't have a chance of putting the idea over. Montgomery probably will have to be satisfied with partial success, if any. But if there's anything to the legend that the Russians are far more likely to trust a "toughie," then the British have sent the right guy to make the try.

To Test Leadership

ATHENS, Jan. 9.—(P)—A well-informed source reported today that Premier Constantin Tsaldaris, whose resignation has been demanded by parliamentary opposition leaders as the price for their participation in a coalition government, had decided to put his leadership to a test vote when parliament convenes on January 16.

There was no immediate confirmation from Tsaldaris himself.

Prices Have Gone up Higher than Wages

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(P)—President Truman, in his report to Congress, gave a lecture on what makes this country's wheels go round.

Here it is, boiled down, for it contains a warning for 1947. The ability of people to buy things depends upon how much money they make, how much credit they can get, and how much money they've saved.

Prices have gone up, higher than wages. Some people have dipped into their savings. And a lot are buying on credit or installments.

But business in 1946 turned out more goods than in any previous peacetime year.

Interment was in the Memorial Park cemetery.

Divorce Rate Due to Housing

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—(P)—The housing shortage, causing many newly-married couples to live with their relatives, is largely responsible for the St. Louis county divorce rate, which now averages two divorces for every three marriages, the family service society of the county was told yesterday.

Addressing the annual meeting of the society, Miss Elizabeth Good, case supervisor, said: "Many couples' difficulties stem from the fact that they are thrown back to an earlier parent-child pattern by having to live with relatives before they have had a chance to integrate a responsible and independent family life of their own."

Resumes Duties

Mrs. Ethel Ellis, 1104 South Massachusetts avenue, who has been ill for the past three months, has recovered and is able to resume her duties as saleswoman in the boys department at the J. C. Penney company.

Book Club Meets Friday

The Book Club members will meet at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the public library, at which time they will hear a review of "Thief Island" which is real fun and a mystery.

In 1947 production may be as much as five per cent higher than in 1946.

If the people can buy up the goods produced, the country can stay prosperous.

Prices Too High

But they won't be able to, if prices are too high. And they are too high. So they should come down.

Mr. Truman can't force them down. That's up to business.

Prices are out of line with wages, having risen too much. Of course, higher wages all around would mean people could buy all the goods made.

No Bridge Player

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Jan. 9.—(P)—Ely Culbertson, 55, the bridge expert, intends to have no competition from his 21-year-old bride.

"My pretty wife is an atrocious bridge player," said Culbertson as they arrived here on their honeymoon. "In fact, she is a menace to the game."

To U. of Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 9.—(P)—Dr. Robert Mortved, former professor of literature at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., has been named vice president of the University of Kansas City, a new position created by the board of trustees. Dr. Mortved has been dean of the college of liberal arts since July, 1943.

In Travancore, a state in India, women serve as teachers, lawyers and doctors.

But higher wages all around probably would mean higher prices and then people would be back where they started.

Some workers need higher wages now, anyway. But many don't, unless prices stay up or go higher.

If prices stay up, people could still buy, if they got credit or dipped further into their savings.

But Mr. Truman points out that it's unsound for the country to try to be prosperous on that basis—buying on credit and savings.

He wants people to be able to buy as they go along on the money they're making.

Decisions on The Holy Land

LONDON, Jan. 9.—(P)—A British cabinet session on Palestine was cancelled today and sources close to Prime Minister Attlee said decisions already taken about the Holy Land would "gradually become apparent."

The cabinet has had international issues, including Palestine, under review for two weeks, and was reported to have decided that peace with Germany was the most important problem to be faced.

The cabinet was reported to have granted Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, high commissioner for Palestine, wider powers to deal with violence, but there was no indication of any decision on partition or appeal to the United Nations for settlement.

There was speculation in government circles that rumors of a 60-day suspension of violence by underground groups in Palestine had allowed Attlee and his labor government colleagues to delay urgent decisions until after the Palestine conference, which is to resume here on January 21.

This is the second game between the two teams, the State Guard winning the first one by the score of 45 to 40.

Chicago Coach Dies

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(P)—Edward Wallace McGilivray, 55, swimming coach at the University of Chicago for the past 22 years and former president of the National Collegiate Swimming Coaches' association, died today of heart disease.

He says price cuts are particularly needed in many foods, clothing, house furnishings and building materials.

The whole point in what he's saying is this: If prices are too high—in relation to wages—people can't buy what they'd like to buy.

If they can't buy, business will have to slow up making goods. A slowdown in turning out goods would throw people out of work. The more people out of work, the fewer goods can be bought.

And so on—with this circle getting wider all the time and the country slipping into a depression.

Brokers Think Food Prices Will go Lower

By William Ferris

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(P)—The men who are among the best informed about food prices, the brokers on the country's commodity exchange markets, think prices will go lower.

Many new year predictions have been made recently by banks, economists and business men concerning future prices. But the forecasts on exchanges are the composite opinions of brokers dealing in the commodities.

Butter prices are high, but you can buy some butter today on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange for delivery in June at about 53 cents under present wholesale prices.

For the average person who just wants some butter to spread on bread that wouldn't be practical— you'd have to take 19,200 pounds, which is the amount represented by a "futures" contract. To save yourself from being drowned in butter you'd better sell before delivery day.

Today's Best Guess

Significance of that 53-cent price, however, is that it is today's best guess of the butter and egg men on what the wholesale price will be this summer.

In nearly all markets in which food is traded for future delivery, a similar trend is shown. Eggs are a single exception. In most cases, the more distant the delivery, the lower the price.

Take wheat, which is basic for flour, bread, macaroni and other foods, it's cash price at Chicago is around $2.20 a bushel. If you buy for March delivery, it's $2.04. For July it's $1.79, or 40 cents under present cash prices. Other grains follow that pattern.

Delivery Prices

Santos coffee will cost 26 cents a pound for delivery in January, but only 23 cents for next December. Cocoa is 25 cents for March and 23 cents for September.

This trend holds true for commodities other than foods. Cash cotton is about 33 cents a pound. So is the March delivery. But cotton for delivery in March, 1948, is under 27 cents.

In every case this represents, in dollars and cents, what the individuals and business firms who operate in these markets now think of future price trends.

As for exception of eggs, the current January delivery is running 32 to 33 cents a dozen for storage eggs but the future price for next October ranges between 37 and 38 cents a dozen.

Butter Prices Drop Again

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(P)—Further weakness developed in cash butter prices today in the country's leading wholesale markets.

Prices at Chicago dropped 1/4 to 2 1/2 cents a pound with 92 score butter, the popular consumer grade selling at 72 1/2 to 73 cents a pound. Larger receipts were considered responsible by dealers for the decline.

At New York the two best grades fell 1 1/4 to 2 cents, making a cumulative slump for the past two days of 1 1/4 to 2 1/2 cents.

A drop of 2 cents a pound was recorded late yesterday at San Francisco for Grade "B" butter. This brought the price to 70 cents, 5 cents under Grade "A."

An agriculture department market reporter said the feature of all butter markets was the narrow price spread between top and lower grades. There is a scarcity of lower grades, but a surplus of top grades, he said.

Fairly Active Stock Opening

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(P)—Today's stocks made a little headway in today's market although many leaders were in the doldrums and dealings among the slowest of the past six months.

Vigor faded from the list after a fairly active opening. Assorted stocks, utilities and industrials did moderately well throughout but the majority failed to follow through. While gains running to a point or so dotted the sleepy ticker tape near the close, fractional declines were plentiful. Transfers of around 750,000 shares were one of the smallest for a full session since last August.

Strong Tone in Wheat-Corn

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—(P)—A strong tone developed in wheat and corn today, although contracts for delivery next spring lagged behind the market.

Governments buying for flour and cash grain for export was the major factor in back of the advance. Cash and elevator wheat bought in corn futures and mills purchased wheat.

Best prices were reduced before the close. Wheat finished 1/4 cent lower to 1 1/2 cent higher, January $2.14 1/2, corn unchanged to 1/2 cent higher, January $1.32 1/2 to $1.32 1/2, and oats 1/4 cent lower to 1/4 cent higher, March 75 1/2 to 75 1/2.

Kansas City Cash Grain

Corn: 152 cars, up 1/4 to 1 cent; No. 2 white, $1.48 to $1.51 1/2 nominal; No. 3, $1.42 to $1.53 1/2 nominal; No. 2 yellow and mixed $1.32 1/2; No. 3, $1.27 1/2 to $1.31.

Founder's Day Program for Wesley Class

Eighty-five in Attendance; Charter Issued in 1934

The Founder's Day banquet of the Wesley Fellowship class was held at the Fifth Street Methodist church dining room at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening.

Eighty-five members and guests were present.

The long banquet tables were decorated in the class colors of gold and white cut flowers and crepe paper. Each place setting had small nut cups with banners in gold and 1934 to 1947 inscribed in black. White candles held with gold ribbons and in crystal holders centered the tables. Candelabra with white candles, palms and poinsettias were the decorations throughout the room.

The guests were greeted in the reception room and name cards in gold and black with the year they joined the class were pinned on them by Mrs. Bert Hathaway.

Invocation by Rev. Campbell

After the guests were seated Rev. H. U. Campbell gave the invocation. Mrs. Alex Gates led the singing of several songs.

Mr. Gano Stearns, president of the class, presented roses to two charter members remaining, who are Miss Margaret Johnson and Mrs. George Lovercamp. Miss Johnson and Mrs. Lovercamp then cut a large cake decorated in gold and white, with thirteenth anniversary written on it.

Raymond Peterson acted as toastmaster and introduced each member and guest by the year they joined.

Mrs. James Anderson, secretary, read letters from charter members who were unable to be present, expressing a wish of continued growth.

Mrs. George Lovercamp sang "We've Come to the End of Thirteen Years" to the tune of "We've Come to the End of a Perfect Day," and dedicated it to the class.

Quartet Sang

A quartet composed of Dr. J. W. Maunders, Raymond Peterson, Ralph Benningfield and Kenneth Buchholz, sang two numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hansford played a piano duet.

Mr. Peterson introduced Rev. H. F. Anglin, district superintendent, as the special speaker of the evening. He gave an interesting talk on "Life Is What You Make It."

The meeting closed with the group singing "Blest Be the Tie That Binds" and a prayer given by J. E. Lindstrom.

Organized in 1934

The Wesley Fellowship class was organized and issued a charter in 1934. There were sixteen active members at that time, with Joe Dillard as president; Miss Margaret McBride, vice president; Mrs. Paul Rhodes, secretary-treasurer; Miss Margaret Johnson, assistant secretary and treasurer, and Rev. Bartley, the pastor, and teacher of the class.

Since that time many changes have taken place. There are now sixty active members and forty social members of the class. Gano Stearns is now president; Bert Hathaway, vice president; Mrs. James Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Seigel Woodward, assistant secretary; Kenneth Anderson, treasurer, and Mrs. Adolph Scott, publicity supervisor.

Reports Chickens Taken

J. E. Paxton, 403 Hancock avenue, reported the loss of seven chickens from his chicken house Wednesday. Later the police received a report three of the chickens had returned "home."

Four Sickened By Gas Fumes

Mrs. Jesse J. Finch and her three children, Janice 6, Fay 4, and Ronnie 2, of 901 East Broadway, were sickened by gas fumes about 8 o'clock Wednesday morning.

It is believed they came from a water heater she had lighted with the intention of washing later. She was about her home chores and at the time she started to dress the children noticed they seemed groggy and appeared to stagger about the room.

Ronnie, the youngest, collapsed and Mrs. Finch also began to feel "dopey." She rushed from the home to the James Hamilton residence, next door, where Mrs. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. Raines, was taking care of her grandchildren.

Mrs. Raines called for the McLaughlin ambulance. After arriving the attendants called Dr. D. R. Edwards who gave the family the required treatment. All of the children had regained proper respiration by the time he arrived except Ronnie, who was revived a short time later. He had been in a semi-conscious condition. None required hospitalization.

How Other Common Sources Of Income Are Figured

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh of 11 authoritative, understandable articles in NEA's ninth annual "Income Tax Primer." Prepared by NEA's recognized authority on income tax problems in consultation with Bureau of Internal Revenue experts, these articles show the wage-earning taxpayer, in step-by-step fashion, how to make out his income tax return.

By S. Burton Heath
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA)—In this article we can clean up the rest of those income tax sources that are reasonably common to wage and salary earners. These involve Schedules A, D and E on page 3 of Form 1040.

Schedule C, for business and professional men, will be ignored, because any attempt to discuss it would complicate the situation and defeat the purpose of these studies.

Annuities and Pensions
If you have a single annuity (or pension or retirement income) the taxable portion should be computed in Schedule A. If you and your wife have two or more between you, use Schedule A for one and work out the others by the same method on plain paper to be filed with the return. Opposite the S-sign in the right hand column, enter the sum of the taxable portions of all your annuities, etc.

For each of these: On Line 1 show what you paid for it, whether in lump sum or in installments or in payroll deductions. If you paid nothing write "0."

On Line 2 show how much you have received prior to 1946, free of income tax. For Line 3 subtract Line 2 from Line 1. On Line 4 show how much you received during 1946.

If the amount shown on Line 4 is greater than that on Line 3, subtract Line 3 from Line 4 to get Line 5. If not, write "0" on Line 5.

Now take 3% of the amount on Line 1. Compare it with Line 5. Whichever is larger, of these two, is the taxable portion of the annuity for 1946.

A matured endowment is reportable here. The cost is what you paid over the years—for example $11.20 every three months for 20 years totals $896 if you received no "dividends." At maturity you get $1,000. Profit, for Line 5 (and to be added to any other pension income, etc., for Line 6) is $104. This is taxable whether you took the $1,000 in cash, left it with the company at interest, or used it to buy a paid-up policy for a greater amount, or an annuity. But remember that this applies only to endowments. Insurance received because of the insured's death is not taxable, whether you take it in a lump sum or in installments.

If you had a single pension, annuity or retirement income, or endowment maturity, write this figure, showing the taxable amount on Line 6 opposite the S-sign. But if you (and your wife) had more than one, add their taxable amounts and enter their sum opposite the S-sign in Schedule A.

Sales of Assets
You are required to pay tax on the profit made by selling anything, business or personal, from an apartment building to a baby carriage. But you can deduct a loss only if the article was one that you had owned for the purpose of making money.

For such transactions there is a separate Schedule D to be obtained from your Collector. On Form 1040, merely enter the final figure, computed in the separate schedule, in the right-hand column in Schedule D.

This schedule now is used also to report uncollectable loans, notes and other debts. Such losses must be claimed in the year in which the Collector rules that they occurred. If you do not claim them you lose them forever. So start claiming them as soon as you have evidence that you won't be able to collect; and if they are disallowed, repeat the claim until either it is allowed or you do collect.

Estates, Trusts, Partnerships
In Schedule E, report only the actual amount that you (and your wife) actually received from a partnership (Line 1), an estate or a trust (Line 2) or some other source (Line 3), giving the name and address of the source.

For this purpose "estate" does not include bequests under a will, which are not subject to income tax. Line 2 is for sums received from the incomes of unsettled estates, or of trusts.

Line 3 is the place to report alimony received, gambling gains, taxable prize winnings, reimbursements for medical expenses or bad debts for which you had taken a deduction in some previous year, and the like.

Add together any amounts shown on Lines 1, 2 and 3, to get the figure for Line 4 in the right-hand column.

Totaling Your Income
The right-hand column on page 2 should now contain all of your taxable income except Compensation for Personal Service (Item 2, page 1), dividends (Item 3, page 1) and interest (Item 4, page 1). The schedules, or separate sheets to be attached, should contain explanations.

Add the figures in this column. Their sum is your "Total income from above sources." Copy it on page 1 at Item 5.

Add Items 2, 3, 4 and 5, on page 1, to get your taxable income, which goes in Item 6, page 1.

Insurance received because of the insured's death is not taxable, whether you take it in a lump sum or in installments.

If you had a single pension, annuity or retirement income, or endowment maturity, write this figure, showing the taxable amount on Line 6 opposite the S-sign. But if you (and your wife) had more than one, add their taxable amounts and enter their sum opposite the S-sign in Schedule A.

National Goals For 1947

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9—(P)—If President Truman's national goals are reached the year 1947 will bring the country:

1. As many jobs as there were in 1946, some 58,000,000 of them.

2. Maybe as much as 5 per cent more goods and services than 1946 provided.

3. Lower prices and, where needed, higher wages.

In his economic report to congress, the President recommended two programs, short-range and long-range. Here, in brief, is his short-range program:

Prices and wages—lower prices; no excessive wage demands; rent controls continued; raising the present 40-cents an hour minimum wage law; bringing under that law workers now excluded.

Social security—raise social security payments.

Housing—a federal housing program to stimulate large investments and thus help reduce present housing costs.

Taxation—taxes should not be reduced now.

Labor—management relations—studies to settle big labor disputes without strikes but laws now to prevent strikes over jurisdictional disputes, "unjustified" secondary boycotts, and strikes or lockouts over disputes about contracts already in effect.

Would Reappoint Senator Bilbo
NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 9—(P)—The New Orleans Times Picayune, in a signed story from Edgar Joe, correspondent at Jackson, Miss., said Wednesday night that Gov. Fielding Wright told members of the Mississippi legislature Wednesday he definitely would reappoint Senator Theo G. Bilbo for an interim term if the senate denies Bilbo a seat when he returns to Washington.

The legislators were not identified in the story which said several legislators who have conferred with the governor in the last few days have quoted the governor as saying he not only would reappoint Bilbo but would telegraph him his commission.

The story further quoted the Solons as saying the governor had told them that despite his decision, "he did not intend to cross the appointive bridge until and if such a bridge arises."

Meanwhile, the story said, the Business and Professional Women's Club announced adoption of a resolution endorsing Mrs. Thomas L. Bailey, widow of the late governor, for the senatorial interim term, if one exists.

Under Mississippi law, should the senate refuse to seat Senator Bilbo, the governor would appoint a senator to serve until next November when one would be elected in a general election.

Bilbo "Grateful"
POPULARVILLE, Miss., Jan. 9—(P)—Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, commenting on a Times-Picayune story Wednesday night saying Gov. Fielding Wright had said he would reappoint him should the senate deny Bilbo his senate seat, said he is "profoundly and inexpressibly grateful."

"I think the governor's decision is just recognition of the will of the great majority of the people of Mississippi," the senator said. "I feel honored," he added.

"When I get through with my operations and get well enough to fight to the finish I will return to the battle scene."

Fourth Of 'Quads' Dies In Wales
BRIDGEND, Wales, Jan. 9—(P)—Nesta Thomas, the last survivor of Mrs. Peggy Thomas' quadruplets, died Wednesday night in Mid-Glamorgan hospital.

Her two brothers and sisters died late last night, about 20 hours after their birth, two months prematurely.

The mother, wife of a house painter, was reported doing well.

Boyle Visits With Timeclock Philosopher

By Hal Boyle
HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 8.—(AP)—Old Henry J. Cudworth is a timeclock philosopher. He is a machine plant patriarch—and every plant has one: The work-loving old men who serve as living links between the old and new in American industry. They put up with all the efficiency changes because they had to, but they still in their worn, still-eager hearts prefer the age of the craftsman that has gone to the age of the specialist that took its place. But old Henry, born and blue-eyed at 78, is modern enough to admit women have their place in a machine factory. "Some of the women who flocked in during the war are better than the men," he said. "It does not make any real difference whether they are men or women. What's important is whether they are mechanically inclined."

High praise, ladies, for an old-timer. Sixty years ago Cudworth came here to start a lifetime of tinkering with machinery, and he will not admit he did it to get away from the cold of a Vermont farm.

Had "Feel" for Metal
He just came because some of his chums did, and because he had a "feel" for metal. He got seventy cents a day for a 59-hour work week as an apprentice machinist and he had to study "shop arithmetic in my spare time."

I went for a walk through the 50-acre plant of the Pratt and Whitney Aircraft works where Cudworth is an inspector now, and he unrolled back some of those sixty years for me. Henry is fun to talk to and with each fact he told an old joke to go with it. I will omit the jokes because the jokes of the last sixty years have certainly changed less than Henry said the machinery has. "When I started to learn my trade," he said, "a boy took great pride in his workmanship and learned to work every machine in the shop."

"He was a craftsman. He started with the raw material and when he finished with it, it was completed and ready to be used. No 'All around' Training."

"Nowadays a man may work ten years on one operation, and not know what the next step is. They don't have the all-around training we had."

Cudworth remembers he used to inspect the raw metal by hand. "Now they put it through a machine that picks out defects we can't even see," he said.

He worked on one of the pioneer Pope automobiles once made here and also helped construct the first airplane engine manufactured by his present employers back in 1925.

"We had twenty machine tools in the shop," he recalled, "and we had twenty-five workers. We started the engine in August and finished it in December. And we all got a Christmas basket to take home."

"Now we have more than 5,000 machine tools and during the war we turned out a hundred engines a day. We didn't have all those special purpose machines when I was a boy. We made a part any way we could then—with a lathe, a grinder or a drill press."

Not Sold on Techniques
Henry isn't completely sold on the new techniques. "Whether all this specialization is a good thing or a bad thing," he said, "is hard to say—but that's the way the world has changed. We've progressed, I guess you'd have to say."

Henry said, however, that change didn't make so much difference really if a man had been happy in his work and his home life—as he had.

"If you can't enjoy your work, you're in a bad way in this world."

He recalled that when he first went to work he could holler "Hey Jack" and call a fellow worker from across the room. He looked around the present vast plant—a hammer-noised jungle of pipes, conveyors, machines, vats, and test rooms where mail is delivered on bicycles—and asked:

"Now how the hell do I get out of here?" That operation took a specialized man, too.

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 — In side fact about the shift of U. S. commanders in Germany is that the stage was set for the change shortly after Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay visited the National Association of Manufacturers in New York six weeks ago.

Shortly before that, the senate was investigating committee (the old Truman committee) had sent its chief counsel, George Meader, to Germany and he had come with a preliminary report highly critical of what went on in the U. S. occupation zone.

General Clay, then in the U. S. was much upset by this report and talked to Secretary of State Byrnes about resigning. He felt that Gen. Joseph McNarney, top commander of U. S. troops in Germany, was the man really responsible, though he, Clay, as head of the military government for Germany, got the blame.

On top of the unfavorable Meader report, Gen. Clay addressed a meeting of the National Association of Manufacturers and afterwards sat down at an off-the-record meeting of NAM leaders including some of the top moguls of American industry. Their solution for the future of Germany was simple. They told Clay that they should be permitted to get in touch with their opposite numbers in German industry — the I. G. Farbens, the Opels and the other big industrialists who helped build up Hitler's war machine.

If allowed to do business with the German cartels, the U. S. industrialists told Clay, they would have Germany back on its feet in no time.

This shocked General Clay. Later he told Secretary Byrnes and his superiors in the war department that he would retire from the army immediately and go back to his old home in Atlanta if any such deal was carried out.

Furthermore Clay told the NAM members at the off-the-record meeting that the German people did not believe in or understand free enterprise and that Germany could only continue under strong government controls.

In the end, Secretary Byrnes strongly supported Clay and urged the war department to relieve Gen. McNarney. The war department agreed. It is significant, however, that before the change was finally agreed on, the state department sounded out some of the GOP leaders on Capitol Hill. They agreed, too.

Russian Lend-Lease

Secretary of State Byrnes has sent a third note to Russia demanding immediate settlement of Russia's eleven billion dollar lend lease debt. And since the first two notes were completely ignored, this time Byrnes instructed Ambassador Bedell Smith to deliver the note personally either to Stalin or Molotov.

In the end, Smith saw Molotov, informed him he had received orders to hand the note personally to the Russian foreign minister because the first two notes were still unanswered.

Molotov replied that he was not aware of the previous failures to answer. This caused Ambassador Smith to state in rather blunt language that the lend-lease settlement had dragged on for six months and Secretary Byrnes wanted it given immediate attention.

Molotov said he would take it up with Premier Stalin, and that ended the interview. It is still too early to expect a reply.

Reorganization Stand Pat

It didn't leak out of the secret GOP caucus, but speaker Joe Martin took a firm and decisive stand against any change in the LaFollette-Monroney reorganization of congress.

"Republicans cannot afford to back away at the reorganization set-up," Martin warned when Representative W. Sterling Cole of New York and George Bates of Massachusetts, ranking Republicans on the naval affairs committee,

When she admits she's not really engaged, Dixon says that he intends to pursue her until she makes up her mind, that he's coming to Blakesville.

MAJOR CAMERON was learning that there is more to the oil business than meets the eye.

Oh well, perhaps his first impression of Mr. Hubert Milgrim's proposition had been a little on the florid side. Somehow the Major had thought then of an executive who would do nothing more strenuous than sit—though that with the greatest dignity. It was with a feeling akin to dismay that he heard, later, Mr. Milgrim's explanation of the executive as an active partner. At least in the beginning, Mr. Milgrim said, the president of the corporation would have to get out and "scratch up" purchasers of the corporation's stock.

"Scratch up?" said the Major, deploring this phrase of Mr. Milgrim's. "You mean—me?"

"Certainly. You."

The Major blinked.

But as Mr. Milgrim went on explaining, the Major saw the reasonableness, even the advisability of the idea.

"Look at Henry Ford," said Mr. Milgrim. "Did he sit and let his company form, willy-nilly, around him? No, sir! He got the people he wanted into it; he took the reins."

Major Cameron looked at Henry Ford, and nodded.

Explaining further, Mr. Milgrim said there would have to be drilling done, a shaft sunk, preliminaries entailing expense to the incorporators and, naturally, to the president, too; and the capital of the two original associates, Milgrim and Breen, seemingly inexhaustible at the outset, had been tee, wanted to hold out against amalgamation with the military affairs committee.

"Even though you think there might be changes for the better," the speaker continued, "You must remember that the bill was passed by congress and has become law. If we go in there and try to tear away the consolidation of committees, the people of the country are going to think we wanted reorganization only in order to get ourselves bigger salaries and are ready to junk the rest of the bill." (The bill increased members' salaries from $10,000 to $15,000.)

Bates and Cole then took the floor, each delivering a grandiose eulogy on the great history of the naval affairs committee although sadly agreeing not to carry their fight to the floor of the house.

Good Neighbors Cool

One of the best friends the USA ever had south of the border—Brazil, arrived here this week in what to him may have seemed like a homecoming. For, as Brazilian ambassador to the United States, Aranha knew this country better than any other recent ambassador, perhaps better than many Americans.

He traveled from coast to coast by auto, visited U. S. cattle ranches (he is a cattle rancher himself), attended Republican and Democratic political conventions, never missed the Kentucky Derby and coined this diagnosis of the Democratic-GOP campaign tactics: "The Republicans promise Santa Claus to both the rich and the poor; the Democrats promise Santa Claus to the poor with the rich man's money."

While Aranha's current visit to the USA may have seemed like a homecoming from a personal viewpoint, from a broader point of view it may not. For in the years since he served as ambassador and Brazilian foreign minister, the United States has largely reversed Roosevelt's keen interest in Latin American affairs. And while we have been arguing about Trieste and the Danube our former good neighbors have started turning in other directions.

Aranha is scheduled to speak in Cleveland this week, and if he talks straight from the shoulder, he will disclose that the Communist vote in Latin American countries has jumped alarmingly, that the old wartime bond between the United States and Latin America has cooled, that the USA cannot buy friendship with export-import bank loans, and that we really will have to work at good neighborliness if we want to keep the best international assets we have — the Pan American bond of unity.

FCC Scrums

A terrific tug-of-war has developed behind-the-scenes for the one vacancy on the federal communications commission. Though supposed to go to a Democrat, the Republicans are determined to grab it. Here are their candidates:

Marion Martin — recently ousted by Taft forces from the Republican national committee. A capable lady when it comes to women's problems, Miss Martin is being pushed by Guy Gannett, Portland, Maine, radio station operator and newspaper publisher; also by Senator White of Maine, new chairman of the interstate commerce committee which will pass on radio legislation.

Thad Brown, Jr. — Son of the late Ohio GO leader by that name who served under Hoover as an expert radio attorney and knows the industry backward and forward. He is being pushed by Senator Capehart of Indiana.

Note — President Truman may fool GOP leaders and appoint a Democrat. He has in mind exand there were two hundred of the certificates engraved.

THEY were beautiful certificates, exquisitely lettered, decorated with the Indian chieftain's head, and having a good deal of wordage in very fine print, which the Major had really never had time to read, though he intended to. He thought that anybody would be proud to possess a certificate; he himself promptly bought six of them with the money which his sister Laura had sent him for his birthday in June.

Mr. Milgrim, a man of long experience in business, attended to all the "drudgery" (as he called it) of organization, the "paper work," an accommodation for which Major Cameron, an author by profession, was duly grateful. The Major's activity, according to Mr. Milgrim, would come soon enough. And it did. He was given a hundred of the stock certificates and told to sell them to his friends at fifty dollars apiece.

The day this task was mentioned to him, he felt quite staggered. He could not think at the moment of a hundred friends of his who might conceivably have fifty dollars each. In fact, he couldn't think of even one friend. After a while he thought of his sister Laura, who, of course, had money to burn. He might write to Laura about some stock—but it would be awkward, especially since he'd never written to thank her for the birthday present. Then, in a flash, he thought of his tobacco route, his Spunky Mule customers. He had never informed Mr. Milgrim of his being (at intervals) a drummer; now, hesitantly, he spoke of it. Mr. Milgrim did not seem at all surprised. The tobacco route, he said, was a potentially fertile market.

"You can probably sell this first hundred within the next month—and then you'll be begging me for a second hundred."

"But you and Mr. Breen will have sold the second hundred."

"Yes... Well, it may mean the issuing of more certificates. Leave that to me," said Mr. Milgrim. "Leave all the chores to me and you just get out on your route and fight off the buyers."

Senator James Mead of New York or ex-Congresswoman Chase Going Woodhouse of Connecticut. St. Lawrence Seaway Pushed

Remembering the disastrous effect of the recent coal strike, Senator George Aiken, hard working Vermont Republican, called at the White House last week to put in another argument for the long-delayed St. Lawrence seaway.

Leading congressional champion of the seaway, Aiken did not have to tell President Truman any of the background of the long fight which has continued ever since the days of Coolidge. The president himself, while in the senate, had been one of those friendly to Aiken's cause.

"This coal strike was such a tragedy in New England," Aiken said, "while just a few miles away were the natural resources to provide us with the power we would have needed to keep our local economy on an even keel."

"It was a tragic thing to see hundreds of thousands of people tremble in fear of a prolonged coal shortage when but for the opposition of die-hard financial interests they could have been assured at least of sufficient electric current for their needs."

Aiken explained that he did come to "sell" the president on the St. Lawrence project, which has been before congress off and on now for nearly half a century.

"But I intend to return to the battle this year if I can have your help," Aiken said. "And I think the importance of the project has been demonstrated as never before during the war and the coal stoppages."

"I agree with you, George," the president replied. "I have always been in favor of the St. Lawrence project and my position is the same today. You can count on my help."

Rent Controls On Hotels Off February 15

To Continue on Non-Transient Rooms
By Week Or Month

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—(AP)—The lifting of rent controls from hotels and motor courts effective Feb. 15 was announced Wednesday by the office of temporary controls.

Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, head of the agency, said controls will be continued on non-transient rooms rented to weekly or monthly guests "under the present quota provisions of the rent regulations."

M. O. Ryan, Washington representative of the American Hotel Association, estimated there are 5,500,000 hotel rooms in the country. Of these, he said, 100,000 are in residential hotels, and "nearly every transient hotel has some permanent guest rooms."

Fleming said decontrol of transient rooms in individual hotels and motor courts will go into effect on or after Feb. 15 "as each establishment applies for decontrol and supplies the Office of Price Administration with a list of its permanent rooms identified by room number or by location."

Ryan issued a statement quoting executives of the Hotel Association as saying that decontrol of transient rooms "will result in hotel operators adjusting guest room rates in direct relation to increased operating costs, rather than making across the board rent increases."

J. E. Frawley, association board chairman and managing director of the Fort Shelby Hotel, Detroit, Mich., said in the statement that "despite the increased cost of doing business "career" hotel men will maintain present minimum rates and make most of their adjustments in higher priced or luxury accommodations."

Gleadow J. Sherrard, president of the Parker House, Boston, defined a "career" hotel man as one who is in the business "to stay."

Fleming emphasized that no daily rates in hotels or motor courts will be decontrolled before Feb. 15 and that on that date decontrol will be effective only where landlords have listed the specific rooms that from then on may be rented "for present weekly or monthly rates."

"It is as important to keep rent control on these permanent rooms as it is to continue our rent ceilings on apartments," he added. He added that these controls must continue to protect the interests of working couples, students, many of them veterans, and other persons of modest means who live in these accommodations. If these rooms were decontrolled and rents rose, the needs of these people would add to the already critically overcrowded housing situation, he said.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh Fullerton, Jr.
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Gambling on sports isn't a funny subject these days, but around the recent National Collegiate A. A. convention yesterday you probably could have gotten 6 to 5 and ten points that nothing will happen as a result of the anti-gambling resolution adopted by the college sports leaders. "Maybe you'd get a few laughs out of it too..." After devoting a couple of hours to torrid debate, a round-table group came up with a resolution which said, as we see it: "We're against gambling; there ought to be a law; present laws ought to be enforced, and nobody who knows anything about a game—mainly coaches and newspapermen—should predict the winner or the score..." The convention adopted it without any big steps that would prevent or discourage betting. And, come to think of it, maybe the fans who say they can't stop it are right.

Floyd Eastwood, Purdue's expert on football injuries, expects to spend about $15,000 in the next two years on a study of head injuries and helmets. One of his first requirements is a "dummy head" and don't say he could take it off the nearest guard... Buff Donelli, who recently coached the Boston U. grid coaching job insists he's not going to acquire a New England accent. "I'm more interested in getting a couple of tackles," he says. "The Naval Academy is planning to fill in a section of waterfront in order to build a big new field house. That should be a good bag for a gag about the boxing team taking dives."

The guys who sweated out the war at Camp Kearns, Utah, may be interested to know that somebody benefitted from that place. Andy Duncan, lanky forward from William and Mary College, and Glenn Duggins, Stroud, Okla., schoolboy star, are playing on the Kansas basketball team. The Kansas Academy is planning to turn the unused Empire City racetrack into the memorial to war vets. How about a memorial to Empire's two-buck bettors?

Paris Guilty In Bribe Offer

Charge it Was Made
To 'Grid' Players
To 'Lay Down'

By Joe Hall

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—(AP)—Dapper Alvin J. Paris, 28-year old Broadway and nightclub figure, was convicted speedily late Wednesday by general sessions court jury of offering bribes to two key New York Giants' players to "lay down" in the Dec. 15 championship game with the Chicago Bears.

Bert Bell, National Professional League Football commissioner, announced at once that the two backs, Frank Filchock and Merle Hapes, were suspended and that an immediate hearing would be conducted to decide on possible League action against them.

The two women and ten men deliberated only 65 minutes before returning the guilty verdict at 4:35 p. m. on the two counts of attempted bribery.

Paris, who took the verdict stoically, faces possible prison terms of five years and possible fines of $10,000 on each count of the alleged bribe offers.

Sentence January 28
Judge Saul S. Streit, who set sentencing for Jan. 28, indicated the investigation of the purported attempt to "fix" the National League title game was not ended. He told Paris after the verdict:

"My advice to you is: Cooperate with the district attorney if you expect any consideration from this court."

Assistant District Attorney George P. Monaghan, who prosecuted the case, had said that if he considered Paris an agent of a gambling syndicate possibly centering in New Jersey.

Sidney Paris, father of the convicted man, said the verdict would be appealed. The quick-moving trial took only three days and Paris was convicted less than a month after the alleged bribe offers were made. A woman, Mrs. Gertrude Noble, was foreman of the jury.

After the verdict Paris told the court clerk he was single and gave his occupation as florist.

Filchock and Hapes, who testified yesterday as to the alleged bribe offers but declared they rejected them, were called to Bell's office for the closed hearing.

Bell said their suspension meant neither could participate in any League activity until he announced a decision in the case.

ing swiftly following the conviction of Alvin J. Paris on charges of offering bribes to New York Giants' backfield stars Merle Hapes and Frank Filchock, National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell Wednesday suspended the two players and then granted them brief hearings.

Hapes and Filchock reported to Bell's office late this afternoon.

immediately after they were notified by Bell of their suspension. Bell had reached the players by telephone at the district attorney's office in the same building in which Paris was tried.

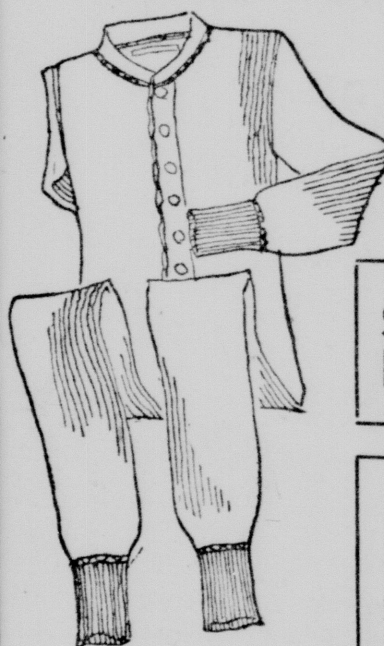

The commissioner's office said Bell spent about 25 minutes with each of the players and then told them they could go to their homes to await final decision by the League. Filchock left immediately for Washington while Hapes prepared to go to his home in Mississippi in the next day or two. Bell's office said a decision would not be reached for three or four days.
